

King Fervor

King Fervor is a power hungry, ruthless king of the phoenixes, disguised in the role of the peaceful ruler. He carries on a performance as a kind and caring ruler of the prosperous Phoenix Kingdom. Often riding his father's achievements, King Fervor suffers from delusions of grandeur when it comes to his power. In order to uphold his role as a galactic visionary of peace, he devised a plan to steal and destroy the Dark Empire's most powerful weapon, the magical hatchling, Abolisher.

Eventually, King Fervor became blinded by his own greed and corruption. He hired Dr. Bronswik to alter the hatchling. Instead of destroying the weapon he wanted to stop the growth of Abolisher to better harness his power. It is this attempt of harnessing uncontrollable power that has put King Fervor and his allies on the bad side of the Dark Empire.

He wants the hatchling, so he can take over the galaxy. He lives too much on his fathers glory, from almost killing all the semi shape shifters and destroying the violent races of Ignis. His greed and over zealousness is his biggest flaw.

Queen Janis

Quiet but powerful; Queen Janis is the good queen of the Royal Phoenix Kingdom. Unlike her husband, she is not at all cocky about her work or power. She does not like war and most times she is traveling outside of the palace to visit her countrymen. She is highly involved with the royal citizens. She was a young lady during the Old War. Her and her family had to flee the Phoenix Planet, in order to stay safe.

She has seen the ravages of war through her own eyes and the damage of it to her people. During her younger years she was highly involved in education, charity and assisting the less fortunate. Upon ascending to the royal throne, she vowed to bring forth peace with all beings and the Phoenix Planet. She carried into the royal palace her private roster of charity and made it law.

She did not share the vision of her husband routine of milking his father's achievements, or interest in power. She was known to openly disagree with him in the royal court and regal functions. This was overshadowed by the queen's travels throughout the kingdom. Queen Janis is often referred to as the peoples' queen. She is honest and open and stands up for what is right and does not change her mind because of financial concerns.

The Queen has the personal duty to appoint the dukes and other lords that watch over the Phoenix lands. This ensures that her just ways will be spread throughout the land. Queen Janis is loved by all of her citizens and she is devoted to helping all of them.

General Falcon

General Falcon is the commander of the Royal Armed Forces of the Phoenix Kingdom and close friend of King Fervor. He is also in charge of the Royal Family's safety. He is an old but extremely intelligence soldier. General Falcon was in the Old War fighting against Barron Bristow's people and the semi-shape shifters.

At that time Falcon was a field officer. After the semi-shape shifters were almost completely wiped out, King Airhart, the king of the phoenixes during the war, promoted Falcon. Falcon then served as a General of War Strategies and personally worked with Prince Fervor. It was in his later years after the death of King Airhart, that King Fervor promoted General Falcon to the Commander of the Royal Armed Forces of the Phoenixes.

Strong and firm with his stern opinions, General Falcon will lay his cards on the table as well as making his feelings known. He is a loyal soldier to the end and will protect to the death those in and under his command.

Dr. Bronswik

Dr. Bronswik is a scientist in the field of biological and genetic research. He was a brilliant doctor helping all persons with genetic malfunctions, but left the medical field due to his non-existent, barely passable bedside manner. He was borderline incompetent when dealing with people and an egotistical doctor who blamed others for his poor people skills. Often Dr. Bronswik would find himself in an argument with medical staff, other colleagues and patients. He is an officious, frenetic, pompous twit obsessed with the glory of his genetic break through. He left the medical field and worked in research.

Dr. Bronswik worked at the Galactic Genetic Research Facility. It was there that Dr. Bronswik created and tested the DNA and gene synthesizer. This was by far one of the greatest scientific inventions that Dr. Bronswik had ever created. It secured his place as one of the greatest scientists to ever study in the field of genetics.

He was soon hired by King Fervor to stop the growth of Abolisher. Dr. Bronswik used this machine to ruin Abolisher's growth. His genius got him greatly rewarded by the phoenixes, but gave him an enemy in the Dark Empire.

Aquarius

Aquarius is one of the best archers in the Royal Armed Forces. He is a young but excellent fighter. Since Aquarius is a phoenix he knows how to use some fire-based magic. He uses special Titanium tipped arrows in order to get the best possible effect from his marksmanship. He was not even born when the Old War was being waged, but he heard of it and what happened. He thrives on the same type of action and adventure that was in the Old War.

Aquarius has been waiting for his big chance. Now with the Dark Empire's invasion of the Planet of the Phoenix, his waiting is over. He is young, reckless, and can be very naïve. He always wants to fight with anyone from the Dark Empire, especially Baron Bristow. He does this to prove himself, but Aquarius tends to bite off way more than he can chew. He wants to be part of the legends, this seems to always put him in danger.

Gabriel

He is a special detail guard in Her Majesty's Royal Guard. Gabriel personally assists and protects Queen Janis during all of her travels. He is specially trained to get the queen out of any situation no matter what. As part of their oath of protection and allegiance to the queen the Royal Guardsman are ready and willing to lay down their lives for the protection of the queen.

Gabriel has saved Queen Janis on more than one occasion. He first pulled her from the face a peril during a disturbance in the royal palace when he was just a palace guard. He got the queen in a safety room and tended to her wounds. She was so impressed with his bravery and compassion that she asked General Falcon to have him trained as one of her personal royal guard. He has stood by her side for many years and will continue to do so.