

Archmagus Dominicus

Archmagus Dominicus is the sovereign ruler of the Phoenix Mages, supreme spiritual and magical leader of the Phoenix people and the spiritual advisor of the Phoenix monarchs. He is the most powerful magical being of all of the Phoenix Mages. The Archmagus is the sole guardian of the Great Phoenix Spirit that dwells within the planet. The Phoenix Mages are the great society that protects and teaches the Phoenix Kingdom of the Phoenix Spirit and magic. All of the Phoenixes magic ability comes from the Phoenix Spirit.

Archmagus Dominicus wears the traditional garbs of the archmagus. When elected to the position of Archmagus, he is presented with and wears the robes and golden phoenix medallion, which shows his authority and spirituality to the Phoenix Kingdom. He as his predecessors promote peace, love and hope to all in his audience. Archmagus Dominicus' life has been threaten many of times from enemies of the Phoenix Kingdom and other rouge groups of phoenix people. He always forgives his enemies and meditates on the thought of there healing.

Upon the attack of the Dark Empire, the Archmagus was informed that Queen Janis fled the planet and he was secured to safe surroundings. He now waits for Queen Janis to make communication.

Phoenix Magus

A phoenix Magus is high trained and skilled in using powerful magic. They are the highest level of mages and assist the archmagus. They are elevated by the Archmagus, to this status from the orders of Archmage or mage. They directly report to the archmagus and carry out their duties in his name. A magus oversees the teachings of the phoenix people and closely monitors the teaching and use of magic.

They wear deep red to show the willingness to die for their beliefs. During the event of an attack, they defend and will loose their lives defending the Phoenix Mage Palace and their people. A larger role of a magus is the maintenance and control the Knight of the Eternal Flame.

Magus' are administrators in the Phoenix Mage Order. The Phoenix Magus' strongly defend the rights of the phoenix citizens and the spiritual and magical teachings. Bound to the old ways of magic they are very strict with its teachings and use. It is unwise to try and battle with a magus. They can perform magical spells that are so powerful, even a weak spell they cast can be devastating.

Phoenix Archmage

Phoenix archmages are experts of magic. They are the second-highest level of mages and assist the Phoenix Kingdom in the teaching of magic. They set up all education of the magic and higher learning of magic to other mages. All magical teachings come from the Archmages.

They wear blue-cuffed robes and belts to show the order of their class. As the magical educators of the Phoenix Kingdom, they closely watch their pupils to see who is magically gifted and who needs to be watch for other purposes. They train all of the mages that enter the order and pass down the magical traditions and rituals to all of the phoenix people.

They train the military and civilian forces in magic usage. It is particularly stresses that magic is use for defense only, not for show and definitely not for wrongdoing. If caught using magic inappropriately, the phoenix mages can cast a dispel spell and stripped a phoenix of their magical capabilities.

Phoenix Mage

Phoenix mages are experts in spiritual teachings. They are the lowest level of mages and are trained in using potent magic. They educate all spiritual issues and teachings to other mages. They educate all of the phoenix people in the Phoenix Kingdom in spiritual matters as well. All of the spiritual teachings come from the mage order.

They wear green-cuffed robes and belts to show the order of their class. As the spiritual educators of the Phoenix Kingdom, they closely work with their pupils and ensure a larger understanding of the energies of the planet, the Phoenix Spirit and a better understanding of themselves as spiritual beings. They train all of the mages that enter the order and pass down the spiritual traditions and rituals to all of the phoenix people.

When a cleansing of a spirit, purification or healing is needed, a mage is summoned to use their expertise.

Phoenix Magician

A phoenix magician is an inductee to the Phoenix Mages Order. They are novices in spiritual and magical matters. The magic they know is weak but still effective.

The rigorous training and education needed to become a mage is difficult.

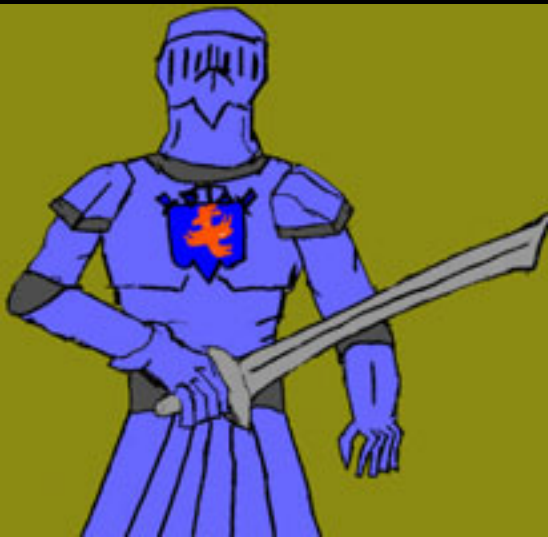

Magicians will train and test and then be appointed and elevated to an order. They will become either a mage, or archmage, depending on whether they are inclined in magic or spiritual works.

They are seen all over the Phoenix Kingdom, many of the magicians are found in schools, libraries and social centers. They are the first level and closest spiritual representatives of the Phoenix Mages to the Phoenix Kingdom. They perform a wide range of public works and services for free. They give up a life of worldly possessions to give the gift of devoting themselves to the phoenix people. Their sacrifice is greatly appreciated by the Phoenix Kingdom.

Knights of the Eternal Flame

The spiritual defenders of the Phoenix Mages are the Knights of the Eternal Flame. They were the original and only guardians of the phoenix archmagus and the Great Phoenix. There is no physical body in the suit of armor. It is filled with the departed spirits of the great warriors and protectors of the Phoenix Kingdom. All of the soldiers, mages and protectors that pass can choose to serve as a Knight of the Eternal Flame. It is the highest form of honor and service that a phoenix can give. It proves that they can rise from the ashes.

If the armor is pierced, the soul of the defender is released. The spirit can come back again, but it would be in a different suit of armor. The Knights of the Eternal Flame are the frontline defenders of the Phoenix Mage Palace and the mages. They will defend the order to the bitter end and still strike back with more. Many of times of attacks, including the Old War, knights, mages and even the archmagus lost their lives defending the Great Phoenix Spirit and the order of mages.

Legend states that only a true pure spirits could take on an army of The Knights of the Eternal Flame, conquer them and successfully find the way through the puzzles of the Phoenix Mage Palace. If the task could be completed, the archmagus will grant upon that person a great gift.
